

BRITISH TROOPS INVADE CITIES IN IRELAND

HOVER AS A G.O.P. IS "BIG NOISE"

Action in Politics Is Noted in All Sections.

ACKED BY STRONG FORCES

possibilities for Becoming Presidential Candidate Are Good.

(Special to The News from the Washington Star) — Herbert Hoover's announcement of willingness to accept the republican nomination for president, with certain reservations to platform declarations, has been the "big noise" in the political news. Dispatches to the Star from its political correspondents in states from New England to the Pacific coast indicate a renaissance ranging all the way from joy to sorrow, with a considerable amount of indifference sandwiched in between the layers.

The joy is among those republican power enthusiasts who have felt themselves handicapped by the uncertainty as to the political status of their favorite. They now are free to get out in the open and do their utmost to bring about nomination of a former food administrator at Chicago.

The sorrowing is among democrats who had been looking upon Hoover as the man who would win the best chance of carrying the party to victory in November. They at now that chances of his nomination at San Francisco have been easily diminished, if not wholly obliterated. The indifference is the attitude that Mr. Hoover is a republican Barkis is manifested in those states which either have favored ones of their own strongly in the spring or where the contest between "regular" republican candidates is so close and exciting as to exclude the possibility of an outer nosing in.

There is a very marked difference of opinion as to whether Mr. Hoover's chances of winning a presidential nomination have been helped or hurt by his telegram to the California Hoover Club. A very widespread view seems to be that, less a radical change in the plans party managers is forced by overwhelming public sentiment, he cannot be nominated at Chicago, and at having made what is accepted as a bid for the republican nomination, democratic enthusiasm for him the standard bearer of that party likely to witness a rapid cooling.

The Star's Kentucky correspondent quotes the Louisville Courier-Journal as voicing this view. Deeming that Hoover would be the strongest candidate either party could name, the Courier-Journal adds that there is not and never has been any chance that the republicans would take him, and it decries his latest announcement as calculated to discourage democrats on further consideration of his name. The correspondent reports, however, that in a poll being conducted by the Louisville Times Hoover continues to be a favorite with publicans, democrats and independents.

The Hoover announcement naturally shifts interest to the California primaries, where there is a clear-cut contest between Hoover and Senator Frank Johnson for control of the California republican delegation. A Sacramento dispatch says the fight is becoming a very bitter one, with a issue admittedly in doubt. The Johnson press has opened fire on Hoover, accusing him of being pro-rich and the candidate of the "interests." In this the Johnson press is the support of the Hearst newspapers in California, with the addition of Hearst trimmings.

Both sides are making a bid for a support of organized labor, and apparently each is meeting with a measure of success. There is a union bug organization supporting Johnson, and another backing Hoover, and each, of course, denies that the other truly representative of the men to toil. Many progressive republicans, who, in former campaigns, have allowed the guild of Senator Johnson, are reported to be lining up for Hoover.

Apparently the contest in California is to be duplicated in Oregon. A dispatch from Portland says that Johnson or Hoover will capture the delegation from that state in the May primaries, the other republican candidates having but minor followings. The old guard organization republicans generally favor for Lowden, but the correspondent reports that Hoover apparently has caught the popular fancy and that there is more talk of him than of any of the other candidates. Johnson has a strong and effective organization, and for that reason it is believed he is the only man who can muster strength enough ahead of the Hoover movement.

The reaction in Washington state has been favorable to Hoover, according to a dispatch from Tacoma. More Hoover republican clubs are being organized, and the non-partisan clubs previously formed.

ILLINOIS MINERS MAY STRIKE

UNREST DEVELOPS AMONG WORKERS

Five to Eight Thousand Men Have Quit Work.

PRODUCTION IS HAMPERED

Dissatisfaction Over New Wage Scale Is Disclosed.

St. LOUIS, Mo.—Unrest because of the bituminous wage, settlement and aggravated by local disagreement was spreading in southern Illinois coal fields Saturday night, operators declared.

Five to eight thousand men, were idle, according to reports from Staunton, Bellevue and Sparta districts. Laborers in the Bellevue district, dissatisfied with their pay increase, called a mass meeting for Sunday without sanction of union leaders, at which time a strike may be called.

Production in the Staunton fields was cut 35,000 tons a day by idleness since April 1, it was said at the offices of the Consolidated Coal company here. Mount Olive and Staunton offices said their production was cut about 5,000 tons daily. Plans of operators to boost coal prices is adding strike propaganda, union leaders said.

Two thousand men were idle in the Bellevue district, it was said, partly because of dissatisfaction as to the new wage scale and partly on account of the Good Friday holiday.

Operators declared they had no knowledge of when the men will return to work.

Men out because of wage dissatisfaction lack approval of union leaders, it was declared. Many mines in districts affected by the walkouts were working.

INDUSTRIES BACK RENT BATTLE

Ready to Launch Concerted Movement to Defeat Profiteers.

CLEVELAND — Ohio industrial centers were ready Saturday to launch a concerted movement to loosen the grip of the rent profiteer. Backed by the government and attorney general of the state, city solicitors have prepared programs of municipal legislation which they believe will not only retard the tendency to push rentals higher, but will in any case cause a retrograde movement.

In Cleveland, it is proposed to swat the profiteering landlord with a list of 5,000 reasonably priced homes. A dozen building organizations have announced their willingness to carry out the program. The Cleveland chapter of architects will design a six-room home along economical but thoroughly modern and comfortable lines; the Cleveland engineering society will contribute its bit by perfecting a low cost plumbing program; the Cleveland Electrical League will arrange for prompt and economical gas and wiring service; the Cleveland board of lumber dealers will see that lumber is supplied at the lowest possible cost; other building material organizations will co-operate with the lumber dealers with the same end in view.

Various building and loan and credit associations along with the Cleveland clearing house association and the mortgage association are now working to make the financial phase of the building easy and practicable. H. R. Van De Bot, Cleveland estate board said that thru the co-operation of these various building bodies and the co-ordination of their activities, it will be possible to finish the 5,000 homes by the end of the summer.

MARY PICKFORD QUIET; ELUDES NEWSPAPER MEN

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—After efforts to interview Mary Pickford regarding the possibility of the attorney general of Nevada bringing suit to set aside her decree of divorce from Owen Moore, had failed, her manager, E. D. Benson, made the following statement Saturday night: "Miss Pickford has absolutely nothing to say and nothing to conceal. She has made all the statements she intends to make and wishes to be left in peace. She hasn't time to answer all the foolish questions of newspaper men."

FRANCE PURCHASES SHIPS

PARIS — France has purchased from Brazil 27 interned German warships totalling 148,781 tons, it was learned officially Saturday night. The price paid was $176 a ton, a total of $26,185,456.

TENTS BEING CONSIDERED FOR HOMES

Action of the Lima Manufacturers association at their meeting Monday afternoon on the proposal to incorporate a housing commission designed to relieve the present house shortage is expected to have a determining influence over the entire proposal, members of the Lima Chamber of Commerce said yesterday.

Altho such a plan has the tentative indorsement of many business men and certain civic organizations, final consideration by the Chamber of Commerce has been withheld pending the results of the manufacturers conference.

By reason of the large number of men employed in industries, the housing problem is regarded as of primary interest to the industrial heads, if a concerted public solution is to be found, say other Chamber of Commerce members.

Introduction in the lower House of Congress a few days ago of a bill authorizing the war department to turn over to cities all army tents not in actual use to meet emergency housing requirements, was regarded with interest by Lima business men.

"The situation in Lima has not reached that point but use of army tents as proposed would be an advantage in case of an emergency, especially during the summer months," said R. B. Dunn, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce.

"There is no doubt their use would be considered and Lima might need them in an emergency such as the proposed Tank Car Company which brings to the city any large number of new residents."

Court Allows Man Short Reprieve

Alex. Haggard, 38, E. Market-st., will enjoy Easter with his sick mother.

Thru the kindness of Judge William Klinger of the court of common pleas and John L. Cable, prosecuting attorney, Haggard was not torn away from his mother's bedside before Easter to pass the next few years of his life behind prison bars.

The court had ruled he must enter upon his sentence Saturday. But Sheriff Baxter was ordered to keep Haggard here until Monday, because of Easter.

Haggard was convicted a year ago of stealing a quantity of hay from a Lima dealer.

WOOD ENDS TOUR OF OHIO

General Terminates His First Presidential Campaign Cruise.

COLUMBUS — General Leonard Wood brought to a close his first presidential campaign tour in Ohio Saturday night, by pleading that "keep our feet on the ground and stand for law and order, the rights of property and of the individual, stand against class legislation, against any autocracy of wealth or labor."

Wood's speech here Saturday night was the fourth he made during the day. He decried the opinion existing among some people that "big business is bad business" and should be suppressed.

"We must not be afraid of encouraging good business, no matter how big it is," he said.

Wood urged establishment of a national department of public health with a medical man at the head of it as a member of the cabinet. He named Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Harding's campaign manager, for the alleged statement that the Republican nominee would be named by a group of men at a 2:11 a. m. conference. He had found 95 per cent of American labor to be on the square, Wood declared. He blamed alien leadership in most instances where there is trouble.

5 TAKEN IN RAID BY POLICE

Three Women and Two Men Are Held for Hearings.

Police activities in Lima Saturday night caused five persons to be imprisoned in the city jail for alleged violating laws against disorderly houses.

Police Captain Grant and a squad of officers raided the soft drink emporium of Fred Moran, 315 N. Central-ave.

The officers took four gallons of mash, they said, together with the proprietor of the establishment; another man and three women, all colored, who were hauled to the police station where charges of fornication were placed against some of the crew, while another must face the charge of adultery. Moran is held charged with conducting the house.

One of the women gave her name as Mrs. Bertha Washington and her age as 16. She said she had a husband in Fort Wayne, Ind., and a child that was ten years old, police say. With her was arrested another Washington. His name was Joseph, but neither could explain why their names were alike.

The two other workmen arrested gave their names as Adeline Edwards, 27, and Florence Nance, 23, and their residence as the place where they were placed under arrest by the officers. Both are held on charges of being prostitutes.

Police last night said Moran was arrested last fall after the discovery of a still in his place of business. His place has been under watching by the police for some time.

SPRING DRIVE ON SAYS JONES

Rid City of Disease Breeders Urges Health Commissioner.

CLEANLINESS HEALTH ASSET

Home Gardening Declared Best Spring Fever Antidote.

House cleaning from cellar to attic the removal and destruction of all rubbish and other waste and the cultivation of small gardens by every family in Lima are among the Spring health measures urged by Dr. A. L. Jones, city health commissioner.

"Cleanliness is the greatest health asset for the people of Lima," said Dr. Jones. "and it is particularly important that we start the fly season with a clean slate. There is no time like the present to clean up hidden corners in basement and attic and to either burn or bury all rubbish accumulated over the winter."

"Babies' lives are at stake wherever there are flies. Flies breed in all manner of rubbish piles, rotten leaves and the like and when weather comes we have the resultant outbreak of summer complaints, cholera infantum, diarrhoea and typhoid, all traceable to uncleanness somewhere."

Prompt measures to eliminate all unsightly and disease breeding spots are urged by Dr. Jones before the fly season opens. Warning in particular is issued about keeping stable waste inclosed in bins and properly screened at all times. "The department will insist that health regulations in this respect are lived up to rigidly," he said.

"Don't clean up the front lawn and leave the back yard or alley clogged with debris. It is just as easy to keep the surroundings looking neat and clean by a little attention as it is to throw rubbish around. The city is cleaning up the streets and public parks and business men and citizens generally should co-operate by cleaning up their own premises."

Health perils are contained in the unclean basement where old potatoes, potato sprouts and other vegetables oft times accumulate, he pointed out, and should be cleaned out and destroyed at once. Much of the agitation to "swat the fly" so commonly heard during the summer could be avoided, he said, by the elimination of the source from which they spring at this time of year.

Better health, reduced living costs and the elimination of Spring fever are other benefits accruing from the labor connected with the clean up, Dr. Jones asserts.

"The average person at this time of year feels a certain physical reaction from the change in diet, especially in many cases where torpidity results from inactivity over the winter," he said. "The exercise, fresh air and sunshine will benefit the individual immeasurably and would practically eliminate Spring fever."

Planting gardens on small unused plots in the back yard, if there is no more appropriate space, would likewise be a determining factor in forcing down high prices, Dr. Jones believes. "If every family in Lima grew a small patch of potatoes and other vegetables, there would be no room for any profiteering charges in food stuffs," he said. "Besides it is just as easy to have flower beds, nice looking lawns and gardens as it is to have trash strewn everywhere and work in the garden is the best antidote for that listless feeling."

LORAIN MAY ASK A RECOUNT OF CENSUS

LORAIN — City officials here may petition the government for a census recount. The census bureau figures for 1920 give Lorain a population of 27,295, an increase of 23.1 per cent over 1910. The post office department's estimate of the population four years ago was 38,000.

The population has increased greatly since then officials contend and they believe the census takers and the census bureau is in error.

Mayor Is Convinced Spring Has Come

Mayor Burkhardt is convinced beyond doubt that Spring is here.

Incidentally his official task as head of affairs has not been lightened in the least thereby.

And the chickens are blamed.

Complaints that stray fowls are not observing property lines are pouring into the office, a never failing sign of Spring time, the Mayor insists.

Some of the complainants ask permission to use firearms against the invaders, others threaten the coop and a Sunday dinner with the feathered poachers (turning the "piece de resistance" unless the city acts).

The Mayor is convinced beyond doubt that Spring is here.

TOLEDO CAR MEN TIE-UP SERVICE

Street Railways Not in Use—City Council Firm.

TOLEDO — Railway operation was suspended here Saturday night for the second time within six months thru the strike of 1,300 conductors and motormen. The Railroad Company and the workers have settled down to a waiting game.

The men want 60 cents an hour. They are now getting 42 cents. The street car company is willing to pay the increase if the city will permit it to increase its fares from six cents and two cents for a transfer to seven cents and two cents for a transfer. This, the common council refused to do.

Another attempt to put thru the fare increase will be made at a meeting of the common council Monday night. The Toledo Commerce club, announced its intention of sending committees to interview councilmen opposed to the measure in the hope of converting them to the higher fare proposal.

President Frank Coates, of the railway company said that no effort will be made to break the strike by importing car crews. Henry L. Doherty, controlling head of the company, said he would present to the people a new railway ordinance modeled on the cost plus plan.

The street car men's union announced its intention to stand pat on the wage demands. The council announced its determination not to grant a fare increase. In the meantime its a case of walk or pay ten cents and up to 50 cents for transportation in auto buses and taxis.

SMALL GIRL KILLED

KENT — Catherine G. et al., four years old, was run over by an automobile here Saturday and killed. The child's mother, Mrs. William Getz, was in another machine and witnessed the accident.

POLITICS CENTERS IN MICHIGAN

Upper State Has Stage Set for Presidential Primaries.

BATTLE OF BALLOTS MONDAY

Hoover Organization Plans to Rout Opponents at Polls.

DETROIT — The sun set on the Michigan primary campaign Saturday night.

The candidates for the presidential nominations who have been turning the Wolverine state into a word strewn battlefield for the past month, folded up their tents, packed their safety razors and started for other hunting grounds.

Sunday, the day of rest, is to mark a truce before the battle of ballots begins Monday.

Sixty University of Michigan students in a flying squadron swooped down on Detroit Sunday to conduct a whirlwind canvass in the wind-up of the Hoover campaign in Michigan. The infant Hoover organization in the state—just three days old—planned to sweep the state with a broadside of publicity in Sunday morning papers.

Eliot H. Fowler, temporary chairman of the Michigan Hoover Republican club said Saturday night he is confident the former food administrator will win the primary Monday.

"Hoover's New York statement Saturday clarified the situation considerably," he said. "Some Republicans who favored him, were afraid he might jump to the Democrats if he failed to win the nomination. They are now convinced that Hoover will win the nomination."

Hoover's statement declaring he would not accept the Democratic nomination, came too late to have material effect on the vote for him in the Michigan Democratic primary Monday. Judge William F. Conolly, Michigan Democratic leader, declared Saturday night.

"Of course, no strict Democrat should ever have considered supporting Hoover," Conolly added. "He is not a Democrat and it was a mistake that he should ever have been mentioned for the Democratic nomination."

Senator Hiram Johnson made a violent attack on his various opponents in Detroit Friday night. He declared Hoover was running "on about a dozen different tickets," and commented sarcastically on the latest entries "about face on the treaty issue." He spoke at Muskegon Saturday.

Governor Frank C. Lowden was winding up his campaign in Saginaw Saturday night. He declared that government—that of municipalities and even of states—was disintegrating.

Real winter weather at midnight threatened Dame Fashion's supremacy in Lima's fashion parade today. Many were the heartaches among the city's fairest as they retired last night faced with the forbidding outlook that fondlest hopes for fair Easter weather like "best laid plans of mice and men" might "gang aft agley."

Snow, accompanied by rapidly falling temperature, began falling about 10 o'clock and gave no signs of let up at press time. Whether the weather man would relent and bring forth sunny skies and another glimpse of spring by church time transcends all other questions in Lima's social world.

MOTHER SEES DAUGHTER KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

NEW PHILADELPHIA — Mrs. Bortha H. Crites saw her four-year-old daughter Dora Mae instantly killed by an automobile here Saturday.

The machine was driven by a girl.

The accident was held unavoidable. The child was in the street, hidden from view by a motor truck.

EASTER PARADE THREATENED

CHICAGO — A general tie-up of railroad traffic in the middle west was threatened Saturday night as the result of a strike of 350 switchmen, demanding reinstatement of a discharged train conductor and increased wages.

According to W. J. O'Brien, general manager of the Chicago Junction Railway, if the strike continues, the country's food supply will be seriously imperiled and thousands of workers will be forced into idleness.

Three thousand cars of live stock which usually enter the stock yards on Monday will remain motionless Sunday, O'Brien predicted.

FOOL BURGLARS

Leave Loot When They Find It Mere Replicas of Valuable Jewelry

NEW PHILADELPHIA — Burglars who broke into the home of James A. Linn, banker here, were disappointed to find more replicas of valuable pieces of jewelry.

The originals were taken along by Linn and his family when they departed for a sojourn in Florida. The burglars found the replicas, appraised them at their real value and threw them on the floor.

TERROR RAMPANT IN NATION

Forces Thrown About Dublin—Patrol Streets and Roads.

ARMY OF TANKS ADVANCE

Pedestrians Stopped By Armed Men and Searched.

DUBLIN. — Ireland virtually was in a state of seige Saturday night.

British troops with fixed bayonets patrolled outskirts of Dublin and other cities, challenging all automobiles, carriages and foot travellers. Every person entering the city was searched.

Troops examined motor cars and carriages with scrupulous care, even removing cushions and inspecting tires.

The cordon of troops were thrown about Dublin early Saturday. Detachments patrolled every road leading into the city as well as in the city limits. Troops prodded hay wagons coming in to the city with their bayonets. Street cars were stopped while patrols inspected the passengers.

Citizens of the suburbs aroused before dawn as the motor lorries rumbled thru the streets carrying soldiers to their positions. Tanks rolled toward the outskirts and every now and then squads of marching men left for the suburbs. Similar military activities were reported throughout the southwest.

Some minor disturbances occurred in the Thirles district, where several men recently have been assassinated. The military arrested a number of Sinn Feiners.

"While we do not expect any organized outbreak we have prepared for whatever may happen," Sir John Taylor, under-secretary for Ireland, said.

"There may be a series of scattered attacks upon police stations, but we are prepared for that, too."

Incoming steamers were subjected to the same vigorous scrutiny to prevent possible smuggling of arms or ammunition. Troops were reported patrolling roads thruout Dononderry.

Military authorities made no pretense of concealing their fear of an "Easter rebellion," and declared, if there were any outbreaks it would not be because proper preventive measures had not been taken.

South Ireland awaited the advent of a new regime of government with speculation of possible changes in policy. Interest centered in the appointment of General Nevill McCready, now head of the law enforcement agencies. The retirement of Ian MacPherson as chief secretary for Ireland and appointment of Sir Hamar Greenwood to succeed him, was considered a matter of less importance. The report that Viscount French, lord-lieutenant of Ireland, would retire to be succeeded by Lord Decies, was repeated constantly. It was given color by a confirmatory dispatch quoting the London Globe, which said French had been offered the post of governor-general of Canada.

The Freeman's Journal did not look for any deviation in the government's rigorous policies when McCready and Greenwood started their machine to work.

"England may change the hands on the clock of Dublin Castle but the works will remain the same," the Journal declared.

Other newspapers agreed with the Journal that no matter what the policy of the new secretary and his agent on the ground, it can be no worse than that of MacPherson.

RECESS PLANNED FOR CONGRESS

Members Probably Will Take a Vacation in June.

SPEED PENDING BUSINESS

Many Want This Session Indeed for Good Soon.

WASHINGTON — Congress probably will recess early in June and re-convene for six weeks or two months during July and August, Republican leaders said Saturday night.

Under these plans, final adjournment of this session would be taken about the time the campaign is actively started.

House leaders have been insisting that the senate speed its work so that the session may be ended for good about June 6, or just before the Republican national convention.

It was learned that warning had been given the house that if it tries to force an adjournment, important bills will be delayed in the senate so as to force a resumption of the session after the conventions.

Republicans leaders state their belief that President Wilson, after adjournment, might point out important legislation that should be enacted and charge that congress has run away in order to give its attention to politics. He would have power to recall congress if it adjourned but would not if it recessed.

Senator Lodge believes that it will be impossible to pass all the legislation now on the program of Republican leaders before the first part of June.

The injection of the soldier bonus question, carrying with it the necessity for increased taxes and a possible modification of the revenue law regulations, has strengthened the belief among house leaders, Mondell said Saturday.

"I had hoped to adjourn by June 5," he said, "but it appears now that it probably will be necessary to return after the convention, because of unexpected problems that have recently confronted congress."

Other important questions pending are the peace declaration, the disposition of the merchant marine, disposition of enemy alien property, protection for the dye industry, universal military training, revision of war risk insurance laws, blue sky legislation, "honest merchandise" bill, increased pay for army and navy men, the print paper situation, additional regulation of the packers, budget legislation and many minor matters.

EASTER FASHIONS TO RULE TODAY

Lima to Pay Usual Homage Despite High Costs.

Altho weather forecasts boded ill for summery attire Lima, today, will witness the usual Easter parade of new creations in Milady's dress, florist and shop-keepers reports Saturday indicated. Even city policemen will don their new uniforms for the first time for the dress up occasion. It was announced.

Florists report the largest business in years, despite the fact flowers have almost doubled in price. Greatest sales were of potted plants, including the favorite lily, which sold for 50 cents a bulb.

To the fellow who sent HER a corsage of violets and alley lilies, he paid a pretty price. These blossoms are scarce and florists were disappointed in not having their orders filled.

Many Lima people will dine out, while the day is second only to Christmas and Thanksgiving for family gatherings. Others too, will join friends in the country and partake of an old-fashioned country dinner.

Fifteen couples secured marriage licenses Saturday for Easter wedding, exceeding former Easter records.

G. O. P. RALLY SOON

State Chairman Will Address Allen-Co. Organization.

George H. Clark of Columbus, chairman of the Republican state advisory committee, will address a committee of Allen-Co. Thursday night in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Word was out Saturday, he A. E. Gale, chairman of the county executive committee, announcing the meeting which will be the first formal G. O. P. organization of the year.

The address Tuesday night will deal with organization, it is said, in the way for active participation later in the partisan campaign. Both the central and executive committees are complete, Mr. Gale said. Factions supporting rival presidential aspirants will wage their respective campaigns but no favoritism will be shown by the party organization in the primary campaign, which closes with the primary April 27, members of the committee assert.

LODGE NOTICES
The Knights and Ladies of Security are to give an old fashioned dance at Eagle Hall Wednesday evening.

Allen Review No. 107 will hold a dance at Central Hall Thursday evening.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. will meet Monday evening at Memorial Hall. After regular session an Easter party will be enjoyed by the members. All are urged to be present.

STREET REPAIRS ASKED BUT LACK OF FUNDS IS HANDICAP, SAYS SENATOR

Spring weather and the lure of the open for the automobile have combined to produce a flood of calls at the office of Service Director McClain for street repairs in nearly all parts of the city.

Due to lack of funds and the limited amount of equipment these demands can only be met in order or as the department is able to reach that particular section, Mr. McClain said.

To obviate loss of time and waste, thru duplication of efforts, he said, a general plan has been adopted looking to the city as a whole.

The department has three teams, one roller and two street sweepers, all of which, Mr. McClain said are being utilized to get the greatest results. The general plan is being followed except in a few cases where it is necessary, as in detours for bridge under construction, to fix up a particular section of dirt street for heavy traffic.

Another policy adopted this year in street repair, he said, is to first grade the street, fixing the gutters, then apply the crown, allowing better surface drainage in place of filling in holes where heavy traffic quickly forces out the filling. A record of all streets and work done thereon is also being kept up to date.

COUNTY WILL BE ASKED FOR AID

Mayor Says it Should Help Resurface Public Square.

Adjustment of the costs for resurfacing the public square in such manner that the county will bear a proportionate share is advocated by Mayor Burkhardt in connection with the other improvements contemplated under the proposed railway franchise.

City property bears a certain tax levy for county and township roads, Mayor Burkhardt explained Saturday and in view of the number of important public highways centered on the square, he contends it is only a matter of fairness to the city and abutting property owners for the county to bear a portion of the cost in paving the portion used as a parking space.

It is the Mayor's contention that while the property owners will be taxed an amount equal to that assessments on other section of Main-st., the parking space is used largely by the county thru the rural residents. He said he expected to go before the board of county commissioners with the request for co-operation in resurfacing this space.

In view of provisions for a public shelter house or waiting room and comfort station included in the franchise proposals Mayor Burkhardt said he anticipated work on the square might be held in abeyance temporarily until the franchise adjustment of recommending such action is being considered he said in connection with the franchise negotiations.

EASTER CHEER LACKING FOR HOMELESS WAIF AT CITY DETENTION HOME

For one childlike heart at least in Lima, Easter meant little more than any other day. There were no thrills of Easter eggs or rabbits, no loved ones or happy playmates to gladden the day.

Left alone in the world, kind friends at the Juvenile Detention home administer to his needs and comforts but the other boys and girls remains unfilled.

He is a blue-eyed boy of six, with an appealing little face and manners that get right into the heart. He has no one to rock him to sleep or tell him the story of the Easter rabbit.

Mrs. Miller, probation officer, wants to find him a good home, preferably in the country, and asks anyone who can find a place for him to communicate with her at Telephone Main 3293.

TO ASK INCREASE OF LIBRARY

An increase from $5,500 to $5,000 per year in the city's appropriation for the public library upkeep will be recommended to council Monday night, it was announced Saturday by the finance committee through City Auditor Ruppert.

The recommendations will take the form of urging a new contract to replace the old one entered into in 1915 with the library board and will also call for a financial report on library operations to council for the year 1919. Increasing costs in supplies and upkeep make the increase in appropriations necessary, finance committee members assert.

If accepted by council the increase will be incorporated in the 1921 budget to take effect January 1, 1921.

HOOVER AS A G.O.P. IS "BIG NOISE"

ed are being converted into straight-out republican organizations. Democratic members of these clubs, according to the correspondent, instead of dropping out, are striving to bring other democrats into them. Senator Polidexter, who has been looked upon as Washington's favorite son, seems to be overshadowed, and the party "stalwarts" are reported lining up behind Gen. Wood as the candidate most likely to keep the delegation from going to Hoover.

From the Pacific coast to Massachusetts is a long jump, but if the Star's Boston correspondent has correctly sized up sentiment at the "Hub," Hoover sentiment flames as high in that seat of conservatism as it does in the red, red west. Former Gov. McCall, who is a candidate for delegate at large to the Chicago convention, has announced that he is for Hoover, and talk favorable to the former food chief, according to the correspondent, is heard everywhere. It is an interesting coincidence that on the day Hoover sent his telegram to California putting himself in the running for the republican nomination a number of the most prominent democrats in Massachusetts met in Boston for the purpose of organizing a democratic Hoover for President club. There also is in Massachusetts a strong independent Hoover club, so that he is being boomed in the Bay state by republicans, by democrats and by independents. And still it is doubtful whether the Massachusetts delegation at Chicago will cast its vote for Hoover.

There is a tier of close but ordinarily republican states in the middle west where the Hoover boom seems hardly to have created a ripple of excitement. The area embraces Ohio at its eastern extreme and Nebraska in the west, with the vast territory lying in between. It is true that during the week there has been some talk of a Hoover movement in Ohio, but it is confined largely to Cincinnati, which never has been really friendly to Senator Harding, and better is expressed openly that even there Hoover talk is merely a cloak under which Wood sentiment is masquerading. It is too late, in any event, for Hoover to enter the Ohio primaries, and the contest there will be one to the finish between Harding and Wood. The latter, according to a Columbus dispatch, seems to be gaining strength, and it is by no means a foregone conclusion that Senator Harding will have a solid delegation from his home state.

Hoover's name is not on the primary ticket in Indiana and there is no organized effort there in his behalf, but it is assumed that a good many Hoover republicans will write his name in the blank space provided. In Nebraska a number of the other middle western states it is too late for Hoover's name to go on the official ballot, and in such circumstances it is assumed that his friends will make no organized efforts in his behalf.

To win would be almost impossible, and the psychological effect of having tried and failed would be bad.

Whether Mr. Hoover's announcement will get him any nearer the presidency than he was before he made it, it certainly has served to give him the political spotlight during the week just ended. It may not have totally eclipsed interest in the fortunes of aspirants for the democratic nomination, but there is no doubt that it reduced them to a state of exceedingly low visibility.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the loins region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well known authority. Meat is an acid food which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sore, irritated and inflamed. When you have backache, tingling and aching in the loins, it is a sign that your kidneys are overworked. The urine is loaded with sediment and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. His famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

MRS. ELIZABETH SHOBE, 85, ALLENTOWN RESIDENT, DEAD

Mrs. Eliza J. Shobe, 85, 114 weeks, died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Reese, Allentown. She was born in Rockingham, in 1835 and was the widow of Jacob Shobe.

Survivors are two sons, Jacob of Cleveland, William of Lima, and two daughters, Mrs. Reese and Mrs. Sarah Mooney. Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church. Allentown interment will be in Allentown.

HONOR LIMA BOYS

Two Local Young Men Accepted to Enter Annapolis Academy

Two Lima boys have accepted admission to the Annapolis Naval Academy. One is John Mayfield, a representative from the youth center, and the other is J. J. Lewis, 18, son of J. J. Lewis, 129 S. Main st. and Adeline Hurst, 516 N. Main st. Their acceptance is a credit to the city.

CHURCH WILL LAUNCH CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS

Another community meeting will be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at the High Street United Presbyterian church. High and Cole st. in the interest of the campaign for a new church building.

The meeting will mark the launching of a campaign for $50,000 for the erection of a modern community church building.

Major Burkhardt will be the speaker at the Sunday evening meeting and all who are interested in the welfare of the west side are invited to be present.

KALIDA—H. M. JAY, former superintendent of this place, now of Archbold, has purchased a Wauson paper and will conduct same. He has served as District Superintendent for some years.

ORDINANCE BOOK TO BE ASKED

Mayor Says Records Needed—Will Urge Spring Clean-up.

Collecting all city ordinances and putting them in book form indexed up to date will be urged in a message to council Monday night. Mayor Burkhardt said Saturday.

Not since 1911 has the city print complete copies of its municipal regulations. The city clerk, J. J. H. Burkhardt, has a complete file kept in convenient and authoritative form.

Difficulties encountered by persons seeking information on city legislation on various subjects were cited by Mayor Burkhardt as rendering an up to date codification imperative.

Traffic rules, plumbing regulations and other ordinances have been issued at different times in the past.

Both the popular students of Central high school, H. M. Jay, at present editor of the school publication, The Mirror, and J. J. H. Burkhardt, editor of the school publication, The Mirror, will have for Annapolis in the latter part of the year.

Johnson Has Made Big Imprint on the Popular Mind.

The do admit that he stuck pretty well in 1912 to the Lost Cause but in 1914 he pulled it that he was not in Foraker's way to return to the Senate but suddenly came out for the job himself. When people wonder why the remnants of the old Foraker cohorts and generally hostile to Senator Harding there is a reason. Nor do the members of the House speak of his Senate career, respectfully referring all inquiries to the bulkfiles of the Congressional record. Flopping around like a tad pole in a mudhole is expected of them that sit in the seats of authority in Washington. Taking up the narrative again they recollect Senator Harding's anti-Wills Advisory

One wonders what will be the outcome of the fight over in the Fourth congressional District where two will be chosen to go to San Francisco convention and two will stay at home. Is a matter on which not in excess of the talkative Senator and here they think, is the opportunity. What battle of that kind will do to the party is another matter.

PIRATES LOOT BARGES ON RIVER SPREE, GERMANY

BERLIN.—Piracy on the Spree is the latest form of criminality in Berlin.

An association of thieves who evidently possess considerable capital, have been holding up and robbing barges on the Spree.

They have their own steam tug and their latest escapade is the stoppage of two barges laden with brass. The tug's crew transhipped a considerable portion of the cargo to their own craft, and steamed off. They put in at a wharf adjacent to the Alexander Barracks under the very eyes of the Customs police who are quartered there.

Lorries were ready waiting, and the stolen goods were promptly transferred and driven to a depot belonging to accomplices, who had already made arrangements for the disposal of the loot.

Says Fat People

Testimony Proves Arbolone Safe, Sure Reducer.

Enjoys Wide Sale Amongst Educated Wealthy Set.

The physician who originated the Anti-Fat treatment known to physicians and druggists as "five-grain tablets Arbolone" is being praised and thanked by scores of women in the class known as "society devotees."

A literary woman in Los Angeles, being so highly elated over her success in reducing, has written a clever little poem, which recites the facts and expresses deep gratitude as well. To safely and surely reduce from 20 to 60 pounds is easily accomplished when tablets Arbolone are used regularly. They are not drastic or dangerous, used as directed, but simply and surely dissolve the fatty elements and eliminate from the system. Also, they remove the craving for such foods as are not desirable for fat folks to use. Herein, Arbolone is superior to all other anti-fat medicines, as it automatically overcomes the abnormal, perverted appetite for starchy foods, etc. Sold by all druggists in sealed tubes with full directions.

Tones of Crystal Purity

The Cheney Reproducer

sensitively attuned to receive and transmit the most delicate vibrations.

The needle point seems to float over a record, avoiding unpleasant "scratch," yet finding and reproducing a wealth of elusive harmony.

The secret of a favorite musician's charm does not lie in the bold primary tones of the voice or instrument. It is the individuality displayed in the control of subtle overtones which wins the appreciation of myriad music lovers.

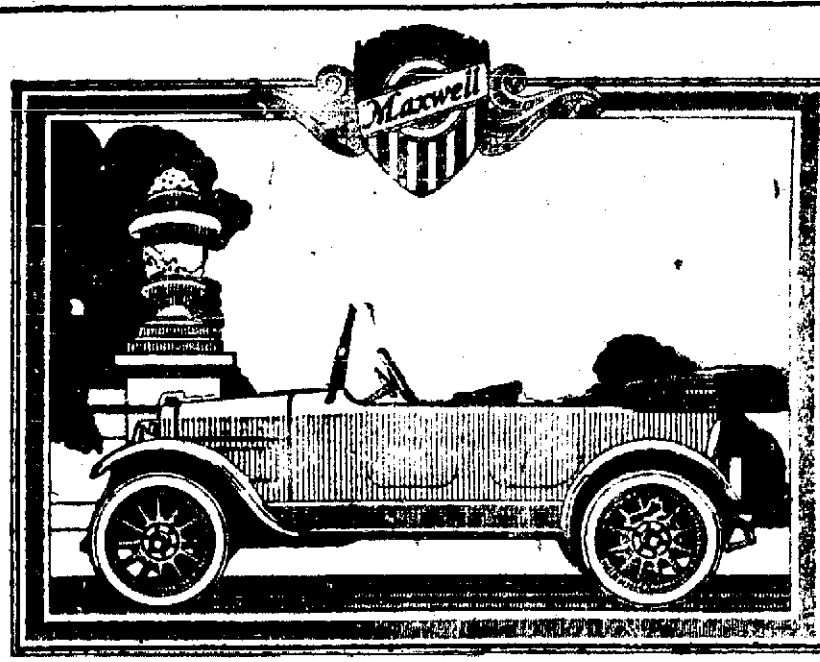

When music lacks these delicacies, it becomes mechanical. But The Cheney mirrors the exquisite tones of the original reproduction in all their vibrant beauty.

The Cheney is a distinct acoustical achievement. Each instrument is finished in period design, perfect in craftsmanship.

The part that fine steels play in a MAXWELL

There is a definite reason for the brilliant performance of a Maxwell car.

Lift the bonnet and you see the simplest of engines. Examine clutch and gears, and you see supreme simplicity.

The definite reason for Maxwell performance and endurance is the fine steels, those steels built to Maxwell's own formulas, that combine quality and rare strength, that defy time and the repairman.

This is the story of the Maxwell, the real cause for brilliant performance and long endurance. These steels do not burden the engine. They make its tasks easier. They flatten out a hill for the engine.

The combination of light weight and great strength—the ideal of Maxwell construction—is thus achieved.

And to obtain that rare combination of strength with quality means costly steels. So you will find that, pound for pound, the steels in a Maxwell equal those in any car built.

That is why the rise of Maxwell has been so marked; why nearly 400,000 have been built; why 100,000 are being constructed this year; why these will fill but 60% of the demand.

THE DISTRICT HOSPITAL

AN increase of funds for the purpose of providing more room at the district tuberculosis hospital in Lima, which serves a number of counties, will be asked at the meeting of boards of commissioners of the various interested counties. The crowded condition at the institution makes it imperative that prompt steps be taken if the hospital is to be run on an efficient basis and do the work for which it is intended.

A visit to the institution should convince those controlling the finances that they must be more liberal this year and provide for the large number of persons who are seeking admission, but who are of necessity turned away.

Several things have combined to make tuberculosis more prevalent in the United States. Chief of these is the fact that many soldiers came back from army camps and the battle fields with the dreaded White Plague or similar affections and must have attention. They deserve the best to be had and if there were no other reason for spending more money at the hospital, the fact that it would help to cure some of our afflicted heroes would amply justify it.

Tuberculosis is both curable and preventable. After the disease has been contracted special treatment is necessary and the district hospital should be fully equipped and afford sufficient room for all seeking admission. Money is needed to bring it up to the standard required to meet conditions, but it will be money well invested.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

DURING the war when it was necessary to save everything possible and to get out the most work, daylight saving was instituted and as a nation-wide movement was highly successful. All communities turned the clocks ahead an hour at a fixed time and turned them back at another designated time, hence there was little or no confusion. The results were good for it afforded men in offices and shops a chance to get out an hour earlier, while there was daylight, and perform such other tasks as they had mapped out as their part in the campaign to win the war.

After peace was declared a movement was started to make this plan a permanent institution in our country, but it was defeated. Now, various communities are endeavoring to continue it on their own account and a movement has been started in Lima to adopt it.

The plan, when its adoption and operation depends on separate communities, cannot be expected to be successful. Confusion will result and while it may serve its purpose in some respects, the disadvantages probably will overcome the good points when it is a haphazard affair. The drawbacks which would result can easily be foreseen when one stops to consider the confusion which would result if Lima should adopt the plan and other surrounding cities with which we are in intimate touch do not.

If various concerns desire to adopt the plan they can obtain the same results by beginning an hour earlier and closing earlier. That would not necessitate tinkering with the clocks, a most undesirable thing.

VANCOUVER

What is the largest city on the American continent, using proportional representation, as now urged by city manager advocates? Vancouver, British Columbia. Vancouver has a population of approximately 100,000. Of the cities in the United States using it Kalamazoo, with a population of approximately 45,000, is the largest.

GREETINGS, MR. MCCLURE

LIMA has been made the heart of the Ohio Electric railway system, one of the greatest interurban enterprises in this part of the country. This city will have the advantage of the general offices of the company, a concern in which the community is vitally interested.

J. Harvey McClure, new vice president and manager of the Ohio Electric, is here and to him the city extends a cordial greeting. It will be with him and thru him that practically all of the future negotiations will be carried on and to get the best results for all concerned there must be the friendliest relations.

Mr. McClure comes to Lima with an enviable record made while in the same kind of work and for the same interests. He was instrumental in developments of great value to the community in Pennsylvania from which he came and his actions during the short time he has been in the city indicate that he will do as much for Lima.

This city needs the Ohio Electric and the Ohio Electric needs Lima. This is one of the most important points in the company's network of interurban lines and the chief consumer of its by-products, power and street cars. Much is needed in the way of improvements of these utilities and the city has the promise from the new manager that every effort will be made to put them on a basis to furnish the best service. There must be co-operation and fair dealing on both sides for only by this plan can each hope to go forward.

HEADING OFF DISEASE

D. R. JONES, health commissioner, issued a timely warning yesterday on the matter of preventing disease. His prescription for doing this is not drugs and pills, but sunshine, a little exercise and the cleaning up of old places where disease is likely to develop.

His idea seems good. There is enough cleaning up around the city to keep everyone busy for a time and in doing this the greatest summer pest, the fly, will be dealt a hard blow. It will be killed before it secures a hold in the community.

The planting of a small garden, or a large one, depending on the available time and space will provide exercise and will serve to reduce the cost of living. Those who undertake this plan will be amply repaid by the better health they will have and the joy of gathering fresh green vegetables from the garden as they are needed.

Both the cleaning up and gardening will get you out in the sunshine and close to nature the greatest doctor in all the world. Now is the time to start. The middle-of the summer will be too late.

MISS LIMA: "A New York judge has handed down a ruling that love is insanity. If that is the case, it is time to sweep out the padded cells. The summer resort season is near."

SHORT ONES

ONE of the wonders of the age is how William Jennings Bryan can get so enthusiastic on grape juice.

ROCKEFELLER says love is a greater possession than riches. But with rents where they are, it is hard to tell.

A CABLE dispatch says George V has gone in for outja boarding. Well, kings must have something to keep them occupied, we suppose.

"I DON'T want to be accused of hating myself," says the presidential possibility, "and I don't ever throw bouquets at myself—but look me over, boys, look me over, that's all."

The Woman Who Loved--And Earned

A MODERN STORY OF HOME AND BUSINESS

By JANE PHELPS

For just a moment Robert hesitated. Then he said:

"The message is from Marion Hovey's brother. Marion is sick and wants to see me."

"One would think you were her father confessor," I spoke as lightly as I could. Invariably I tried to conceal my jealousy of Marion.

"Poor girl. She misses her father sadly," Robert's answer was so sympathetic it gave me another twinge, but I asked quietly:

"When does she want to see you?"

"Sometime tomorrow."

"Oh, Robert! We can't disappoint Mary. Her heart would break if we did not accept her invitation to dinner."

"So would mine! I will go with you, then after dinner will run over to Marion's for a while, then come back after you. You will enjoy a quiet chat with Mary."

I said nothing either for or against his plan. He had decided what he would do, I would not object. I may have been wrong in my ready acquiescence to all of Robert's ideas, but he was so visibly unhappy over his loss of a position, that I had no heart to oppose him in any way.

Before he went to bed, I saw him surreptitiously take the message from his pocket and read it again, then tear it up. I felt hurt that he had not shown it to me instead of telling me what was in it; but I said nothing, and pretended to be busy fixing my waist. I had decided to wear my tailored suit and an old waist so that I might help Mary with her work.

"What are you fixing that old thing for? I thought you told me it was worn out long ago. Got to wear old clothes now that you have a big husky husband to support!" he said with bitterness.

"Nothing of the sort! I said this waist was too shabby to wear in the shop, but it is freshly laundered, and with a little fixing, I can wear it tomorrow. Then I can help Mary do up her work without feeling I am spoiling my clothes."

"Explanation accepted," Robert replied humorously.

The morning dawned bright and lovely. As we were not to be at Mary's until 2 o'clock, I proposed to Robert that we take a nice long walk. He was so restless, so uneasy, that I too was nervous watching him fight. We had read the morning paper, taken the addresses of two or three firms whose advertisements seemed particularly alluring—one or two that were "no good," Robert said, but which I told him it wouldn't hurt him to go and see, if the others weren't suitable.

"One would think I was hunting an employer instead of a job," he exclaimed impatiently.

"Well, aren't you hunting an employer?" I replied laughing.

"Maybe! they aren't falling over each other looking for me."

"Come on, let's walk up there the park. We can rest as often as we like, and still reach Mary's on time."

The lovely day seemed to have its effect upon Robert's spirits, and we were soon chatting and laughing together as we had not done in days.

"Seems good to go out alone once more, doesn't it, Gerry?" he asked as we sat under an arched trellis, resting.

"Indeed it does! Really, Robert, I think your aunt nearly made us gether as we had not done in days.

"Sure. She'll get over it, and so will we. It's quarter of two. We will have to hurry or Mary's dinner will be cold—that is, if she has it on time."

"Tomorrow — Dinner at Mary's."

We have been taking a course in self-education. One of the rules laid down is to spend a portion of each day studying the dictionary, for the reason, no doubt, that the author of the dictionary used a good deal of the English language while preparing his book.

Last evening we began the dictionary course and while there was not much of a plot to the story, it was as good as some of the motion picture plays we have seen and we stuck to it.

Finally, we ran across a word that interested us. It was the word "skiddaw." We had never seen it before, even on the sporting page, and we hastened to investigate it. We were surprised to learn that a skiddaw is a black guillemot. The rest was easy. We looked up "guillemot" and found that a guillemot is a white skiddaw. We never would have thought it.

Live and learn.

For a long time

We have been looking

For a house or an apartment

Or a tent or a covered wagon

Or something to live in, and

Our friends have all been

On the lookout for us.

Yesterday the prize friend

Came and told us

That he has a cousin

Who knows a man, who Knows another man,

Who works for a man

Who has got an uncle

Who is in bad health.

This man is suffering

From a form of rheumatism

That will get him in time,

Although the doctors say

He may hang on for years

If no complications set in.

When this uncle dies,

He will not need his apartment,

And it has been passed down

Through five hands

That we will get

The first chance on that

Apartment as soon

As there is an opening.

As that we hope is that

None of the gentlemen

In the long line

Forget to pass the word along.

REGULAR MEALS.

The reason some babies are so cross and cantankerous is that they get their meals irregularly and irregularly disturbs the nice coordination of the entire digestive process. It is funny how some mothers serve meals at all hours, and then ply their babies with all sorts of drugs to help digestion and regulate the bowels.

Most people know that a certain periodicity or rhythmic regularity is a feature of all normal body functions. The pulse, the breathing, the alterations of body temperature, the brain activity, all important functions. From the hour of my birth I was put to the breast every four hours by the clock right and day. I was drowsy or asleep they awoke me, as if a gentle spanking was necessary. On the third day the nursing interval was shortened to three hours, and from then onward I had my meals at two and a half hour intervals from 6 a. m. until 9 p. m. and once in the night. Mother either lay down beside me or held me in her arms as she sat in her chair, while I took my dinner. She had a way of softly humming sleepy little songs as I finished dinner, but I thank my lucky stars she never used my stomach for a churn.

"Umph! are we goin' to have peace or no?" I kin git them at banquets," complained ABE Bud 't his wife 't day. Another thing, we didn't use to have when the saloons was open—th' fellow that drinks for the poverty of the thing.

EASTER WILL BE OBSERVED

Churches of Lima Arrange Beautiful Services for Today.

SPECIAL MUSIC ARRANGED

Templars Accept Invitation From Pastor of Trinity.

More the Easter morning... Like the beautiful lily, so symbolic of the day it typifies, Easter morning... The week just ended has brought the significant fact to all, for in all churches worshippers have been brought closer to these truths by services.

And all with the one object in view—to make better men and women and equip every one more fully for the responsibilities of the coming year.

Today spring comes in earnest. The drooping lily, the modest violet, the crocus, the pansy, the tulip, the carnation, will yield up their fragrance in Lima churches, praising their Redeemer in tune with nature.

The softness and richness of velvet,

If you have a charming new frock,

STEEL PLANT IS EXPLAINED

Chamber of Commerce Will Take Up Proposition.

Lima business men, among whom were members of the Chamber of Commerce, listened to an outline of the operations and plans for the proposed Lima Steel company, at a meeting Saturday.

Harry G. Bow, president and general manager of the company, rehearsed the details of the organization from the proposed soliciting of the money by the sale of stock to the output of the plant.

The plant will cost $750,000, nine months to be consumed in building. Bow declared stock in the concern was the best investment to be found at the present time. The associates of Bow sold $200,000 of the stock. Workmen would also own stock in the concern. Plans would be made to bring only the best skilled labor here for work in the plant from Canton, Youngstown, Wheeling and Pittsburgh.

Bow and his associates will place a prospectus of the plant before trustees of the Chamber of Commerce.

PASSOVER OBSERVED

The observance of the Passover holiday among the Jews, which began Friday and will last a week, was the occasion for a special sermon by Rabbi Adolph Steiner at the Public Library Friday night. He spoke on "Israel's Message to the World." The seder exercises for children of the Sunday school will be held this afternoon at the rooms of the Gramm-Bernstein club.

JUST FORCE LAWS AGAINST 'REDS'

Department of Justice Claims
Leniency Has Been Given

WASHINGTON — A thorough investigation of the labor department's claim in deporting only a small percentage of the large number of alien radicals arrested by the department of justice will be made by the house immigration committee, Chairman Johnson, Washington said Saturday. Evidence has just been submitted to the committee that while the department of justice has arrested nearly 2,000 radicals since last December against whom it claimed to have "perfect cases" under the law requiring deportation of all foreigners advocating overthrow of the government by force, the labor department has sent back only about 100. As a result charges have been filed with the committee alleging the labor department has been lax in enforcing the law Johnson said.

Another aim of the investigation will be to determine the status of alien I. W. W.'s Johnson said. Another assertion is that the departments have been at cross-purposes on the campaign to reduce the cost of living. It is probable that Attorney General Palmer and Secretary of Labor Wilson will be called to testify.

Wanted for Big Positions --- Men of Blood and Iron --- Men of Force Stamina, Power and Success

The Kind of Men Nuxated Iron Helps to Make

Physician tells How Many Men Fall Just Short of Winning the $10,000 to $100,000 Positions because they Don't Back up Their Brains with the Physical Strength and Energy that Come from Plenty of Iron in the Blood

How Nuxated Iron often increases the Red Blood, Energy and Endurance of Nervous, Weak and Run-Down Men in Two Weeks' Time.

It is the men of blood and iron who master the nerve-racking jobs they have the strength, power and endurance to overcome obstacles and withstand the strain of long hours and hard work. They are the ones who are chosen for the big positions that pay from $10,000 to $100,000 a year and their red-blooded, tireless energy are what enable them to hold these positions and often become leading figures of industry and commercial life.

In his advice to men on how to build up their health and strength and attain greatest success, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Department), New York, and Westchester County Hospital, says: "The big, successful men I have met are almost always strong physically — men with red blood, rich in iron, men of personality, of the vultures power which instantly commands respect. Many an ambitious and able man who would normally rise to the top gives all his thought to his mind and none to his body. He falls just short of winning the $10,000 to $100,000 positions because he doesn't back up his mental strength with the physical strength and energy which comes from plenty of iron in the blood. Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical weakling, nervous, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that will power, that stamina and that strength which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. To help make men strong and red-blooded there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. In case after case I have seen Nuxated Iron begin to give a weak, nervous chap entirely new vigor, energy and endurance in only two weeks' time."

This Man Gets $100,000 A Year because he backs up his brains with the physical strength and energy that come from plenty of iron in his blood. If you are not as successful as you'd like to be—if you lack force and stamina—try Nuxated Iron and watch its strength-giving effect.

its original package, see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken other iron products and failed to get results, remember that such preparations are nothing like Nuxated Iron, which is strongly recommended by many physicians and such notable men as former United States Senator, William E. Hanson and Ignace Jan Paderewski, master pianist and Ex. Premier of Poland, and widely known women like Miss Mabel, Mrs. Helen, Miss of the Brooklyn Museum and Mrs. James L. Thompson, author of the "War General."

Can you stand as much as you ever could or does extra work or loss of sleep one day wear you out the next? Are you beginning to think of yourself as getting old? Do you have off-days when you cannot think clearly, cannot master the problems and when you feel like throwing up everything and getting away from everybody? Do you feel there is something the matter with you and you do not know what?

RESPONSIBILITY

Like Atlas of Old the successful business man of today is a man of blood and iron, easily able to carry his burden of responsibility.

Do You Wish You Had a Car Like This?

The men with the red blood and strength to get and hold the big positions of life. To help make men strong and red-blooded there is nothing so effective as Nuxated Iron, physicians say.

practically three times a day after meals for two weeks and see how you are getting back your old energy and ambition, how much stronger you feel and how much more you can do. Nuxated Iron is used by over 3,000,000 people annually to build up red blood, strength and endurance.

Manufacturers Note: Nuxated Iron, when recommended above, is not a secret remedy, one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older iron-rich tonics it is easily assimilated and does not cause the acid, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturer guarantees satisfaction and money refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

LEGION WILL STAGE BOUT ON MAY 1

The athletic committee of the American Legion has practically decided to stage another boxing exhibition at Memorial Hall on May 1.

This was the announcement coming from Dr. E. G. Sinks Saturday night.

Arranging the affair is in the hands of William Gallant, chairman of the Athletic committee and matchmaker Wildoner.

Whether this show will be held or not will be definitely decided at the next meeting of the Legion.

"We will in all probability stage a carnival on May 1 at Memorial Hall and we hope to put the second affair across in bigger manner than the first," Captain Sinks said.

Men who will work on the card have not yet been announced. Matchmaker Wildoner is now said to be lining up several good boys through the county.

Fans in all parts of the city, however, feel sure that Kid St. Elmas, who has never been beaten in Lima,

SUNDAY SEMI-PRO TEAM FOR LIMA

Baseball managers here have made their selection. It will be a high-class independent team for Sunday diamond fans.

Decision to this effect was reached yesterday following conference of Bernie Halloran, 1919 independent ball club manager and other backers of the national pastime.

Fans can now rest on easy street and depend on Halloran putting a high-grade combination on the field to display the favorite sport.

The local baseball men will immediately open negotiations with players and teams in various parts of the state and country and when the season is opened here, Halloran promises to have a good club in action against good opposition.

No intimation has been given as yet by Manager Halloran, regarding men who will compose his club. He has also remained quiet as to team which will play here.

Independent ball, with class baseballers performing, was selected in preference to the proposed city league on the ground that local fans were more anxious to see good teams from other cities each Sunday.

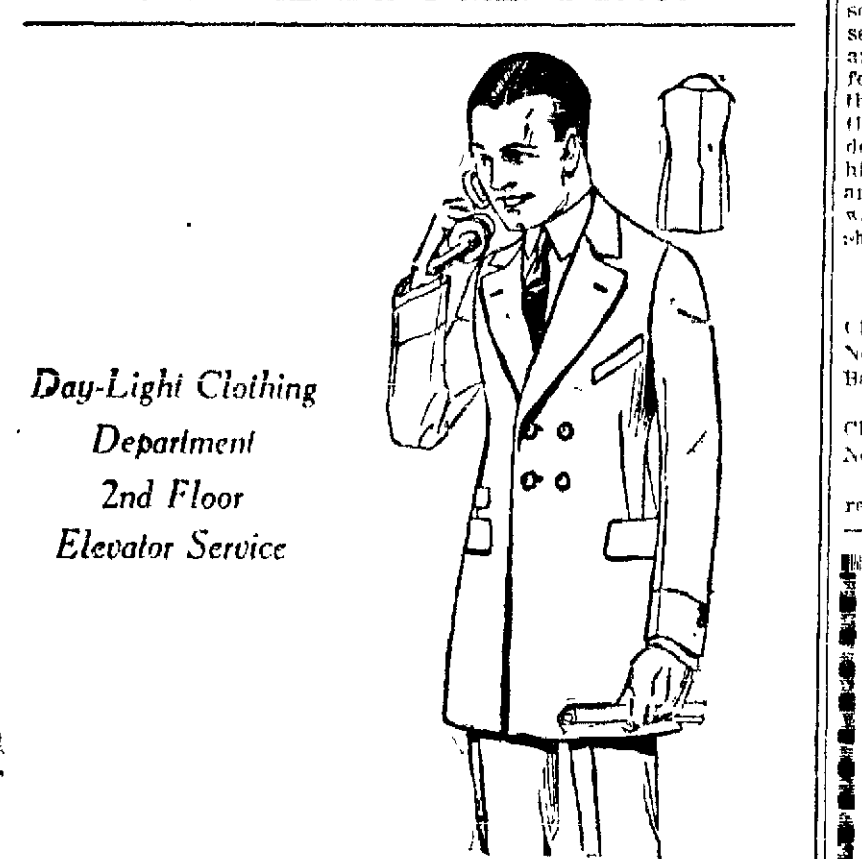

SOUTH AND CENTRAL

NINES IN PRACTICE

With the approach of baseball season ball tossers of both South and Central highs are daily in practice for games of the coming season.

Coach Hendershott, who ran football and basketball at the South Side school, will be in charge of the athletic activities. He says that South will give all surrounding district teams some opposition this year. Hendershott also claims that his boys are already looking forward to a game with Central.

WILLIAM TILDEN TENNIS CHAMP

NEW YORK.—Virtually descended upon to head a William T. Tilden, Providence, Number of the ranking of tennis. The lanky star won the national indoor championship from the 17-year-old Vincent Richards, the 1919 champion, by scores of 10-8; 6-3; 6-1. Later, with the same lad as partner, he won the doubles championship from Samuel Hardy S. H. Howard and Voshell at 6-3; 2-6 and 6-4.

In winning single championship series Tilden ran true to form that was characteristic of him all thru the tournament. He played such an even consistent game that he gave the gallery the impression that he was allowing his youthful rival to make a good showing. His powerful drives and speedy service made him almost invincible on the floor of the armory.

Tilden and Richards were slow in getting started in the doubles match. Tilden lost his opening service and they remained behind until the sixth game, when they broke thru on Hardy and won three straight games for the set. Hardy and Voshell won the second set and seemed to have clinched the match with the score 4-2 in their favor in the third set. In the seventh game Richards served a love game. In the following game the winner broke thru on Hardy's service and allowed their opponents only one point. Tilden smashed thru a love game on his own service in the ninth game and the tenth went to a deuce but was won by a brilliant placement shot by young Richards.

Opening day for the "Y" Industrial baseball league is still a long ways off.

But the seemingly remoteness of the big event does not prevent members of the league from planning for the occasion in advance. Byron Perry, an enthusiastic supporter of the league says:

Speaking for members of the Industrial league council Perry last week said that opening day would be one which would long be remembered.

An insight into plans of the shopmen for the "first day" shows that the boys are figuring on a big parade, composed of the eight teams completely uniformed, trucks from various factories carrying hundreds of rooters, a high float and novelties of various kinds.

TREASURED WITH SEMI-PROS.

Jeff Treasreau, former pitcher for the New York Giants will manage an independent team in Brooklyn this year and the team is to be called the Bears in honor of the Missouri Grizzly. Treasreau plans a fast team. Two of his players are to be Marty Kavanaugh and Joe Wagner, former major leaguers.

LOCOS DEPEND ON MALLOY.

Under the able guidance of Manager Malloy, an old head in the baseball line, baseball men of the Lima Locomotive Works, hope to place a team in the "Y" Saturday afternoon league which will be able to more than hold its own with the remaining seven clubs of the circuit.

Malloy has been connected with baseball for many seasons and is regarded as one of the best handlers of young ballplayers around these parts.

The manager has not yet announced his lineup for the season but word from the loco factory is to the effect that he will not have a list of real stars in action.

ACKERMAN NOW BEST WAGER

Merle Ackerman now looms up as the most logical choice for pool championship honors of this city.

Ackermann was placed in this light last week when he trimmed Jimmy Gardner in the second frame of their 450 ball match being held at the Arcade Billiard parlors.

Two thirds of the match has been played. Gardner winning the first 150 to 128. Ackermann came back strong at the next meeting and with high runs emerged with a 150 to 52 win.

The final match will be played Wednesday evening at the Arcade parlors.

Winner of the match will in all probability meet Roy Binder, of Spencerville, to decide one honors for this district. Binder, who is said to be quite a cue expert, has challenged winner of the local match. A purse will be at stake should these men contest.

CORBETT SAYS JACK IS FIT

SPORT—SUNDAY

Jim Corbett says that Jack Dempsey shows more horse sense than any other champion he ever saw.

"Out in Los Angeles," piped Jim yesterday, "Dempsey has a big handball court, an outdoor ring and all sorts of things to work with. He has his mother and sister with him and after his movie work stays right around the cottage, doing light work and boxing with Tate."

"I saw him quite a lot out there, and I'll tell you that right now he's in as fine shape as he was at Toledo and I thought he was wonderful then."

WILL SOON PERFORM

After many weeks of practice Pyle, physical director of the "Y" Saturday afternoon league, announced that he will take part in his monster indoor circus, that within the next few days will be set for the big-test performance.

Pyle has been working closely with the gymnasts and it is believed that he has perfected each in his individual line. The "circus manager" says that his troupe of acrobats and clowns will put up exhibitions which will earn them a place with a regular circus should they desire.

LOGAN IN GOOD TRIM AGAIN

Bud Logan's two round finish Kid William at Ironton last Tuesday convinces a majority of the boxing fans that the St. Mary's is swiftly rounding into shape.

For several years the St. Mary's youth was knocking them silly in these parts with a terrific left hand and a right cross and it was these punches which accounted for his easy win at Ironton the other evening.

Moose of Wapak has come out with the announcement that Logan will be the main attraction on the coming card.

According to the Wapak local Logan will mix it with Willie Shaffer in a ten round bout.

Shaffer and Logan have met on several occasions with a break resulting from the meeting.

The Chicago man has been continuously in the game and should be in the best of trim for the affair.

U. S. WILL CLEAN UP IN OLYMPICS SAYS COACH ROBERTSON, ONCE STAR

By LAWSON ROBERTSON

Altho the date of the Olympic games to be held in Antwerp is still months off, athletes in every branch of amateur athletics in this country are preparing themselves with a view of "making" the team.

The United States should have no difficulty in winning the majority of the individual events. There is to be no Olympic Team Championship account of the war, the Olympic council has announced.

The war has so depleted the athletic strength and athletic training facilities of Europe that we may look forward to a rather easy time of it. Scandinavians, who remained intact during the war should, however, be counted on to make a formidable showing. Great Britain and her colonies, ordinarily our biggest athletic rivals, will most likely have to be contented with third honors to the Swedes, who at least have an organized team.

During the lapse between the Stockholm Olympiad and the coming ones, but very few of the 1912 winners will be available for either this or the other countries.

Amongst the most prominent Americans of these are McDonald, first in the shot put; McGrath, winner of the hammer throw; Kelly, the high jumper; and Richards, who took the honors in the running high jump. The available veteran champions of other nations are Taipale of Finland, winner of both discus events; Niklander of the same country, runner-up in both discus and shot put; Saarsto also a Finn, who won the javelin throw, and possibly Goulding, the Canadian who won the 10,000-yard walk.

Judging from the results of last year's championship contests in foreign countries as compared with our own most recent performances, the United States should score first and second places in about exactly the same events in which we were successful in 1912.

With a new crop of sprinters that are in no way inferior to the Stockholm finalists, we look forward to such men as Scholz of Missouri, Haymond of Utah, Paddock of California, Hayes of Notre Dame and Williams of Spokane to out-dash any European product. Our middle distance prospects are almost as bright when such performers as Eby and Maxam of Pennsylvania, Driscoll of Boston, Shea of Pittsburgh, Mayer of Cornell, Curtiss and Speer of Chicago, Baker and O'Brien of New York are considered.

In the 1500-metre run our prospective representatives altho not by any means as collectively strong as in 1912, appear to be centered around Joie Ray of Chicago and aided by several second stringers in Devaney of New York, McCosh and Stout of Chicago, Crawford of Lafayette, O'Connell of Harvard, Windnagle of Washington and Connolly of Georgetown.

The long distance running races at 5,000 and 10,000 metres and cross country may have as competitors, Fallor of Dorchester, Mass., American 10-mile champion; Dresser, ex-Cornell former intercollegiate champion; Pores, national 5-mile champion, and Simmons of Syracuse.

It is doubtful if the above are quite as good as our previous entrants in Olympic long distance contests, but perhaps two or three additional men may be developed before the final try-outs are held.

Our usual good crop of hurdlers should manage to show the way to most of the foreigners. In Johnson of Michigan, Sylvester of Missouri, Barron of Philadelphia, Smith and Watt of Cornell, Erdman of Princeton and Kelly of New York, we have a fine field to choose from.

The running high jump should have the following men trying for a place on the team: Richards of Utah, Whalen of Boston, Murphy of Notre Dame, Landon of Yale, Erickson of New York and Larsen of Utah. All of the above have cleared the bar at 6 feet 3 inches or better which performance would almost certainly exceed that of any from abroad, as far as up to date records show.

The running broad jump should be well taken care of by Johnson of Michigan and Butler of Dubuque as first place contenders, altho this is a rather uncertain event and upsets are frequent. Second string jumpers for this country are problematical.

The standing jumps will miss the services of the Adams brothers who scored heavily at Stockholm but William Taylor of Ohio, the winner in the inter-allied games, should fill the vacancy.

Pole vaulting is almost strictly an American event and our intercollegiate winners of this year together with Foss, the new record holder, ought to bring our colors to the top of the Antwerp stadium.

Then comes the weight throwers. Here is where we may run up against it. In the hammer throw and 56 lb. weight our chances are rosy with such performers as McGrath, the present champion, and Ryan, the record holder. Also we have the veteran McDonald in the shot put, but it seems that Finland has some excellent performers in Niklander, who was third in Stockholm, and Taipale. Both of these men have improved and McDonald will have to be in his 1912 form to be returned a victor.

The discus and javelin events must almost be conceded to the Finns and Swedes as our performers are not quite up to their standards or records.

Our all around athletes who may represent us in the Pentathlon also might have their difficulties altho LeGendre of Georgetown seems the equal of any European thus far produced.

The marathon race, considered the feature of the Olympic meet, is the most uncertain of all. There has not been a good consistent marathoner produced in this country since the last games, and it would be hazardous to predict a possible winner, altho the Swedes and Finns seem to foster this branch of sport to a greater extent than the other countries.

A dear old gentleman noticed a laborer walking along a railway track and diligently tapping the wheels. Having nothing better to do, the old gentleman approached and asked:

"How many years have you been working for this railway, my man?"
 "Thirty-eight," replied the laborer, still continuing his work.
 "I suppose you have had many varied experiences in your time—plenty of change of work, don't you expect?"

"No, sir, I've always had the same job. I've tapped the wheels of the cars for eight-and-thirty years, sir."

DEPENDABILITY

In Merchandise

ALL furniture is not alike. A few coats of varnish may cover a multitude of defects, while years of service come only from the use of quality materials carefully selected, fully seasoned and properly finished. In other words, the essential thing in all furniture is dependability—its ability to give daily, year-after-year service under the hardest kind of usage. Our reputation has been built on furniture of this type. Honestly constructed through and through, every piece is sold on its own merits. If an article of furniture is mahogany veneered, for instance, we will tell you frankly. If it is solid mahogany or merely finished in mahogany, we will tell you the truth. In fact, you can place genuine confidence in not only the merchandise itself, but in every word used either in our advertising or by our salesmen.

In Service

LEADERSHIP imposes responsibility because a leader not only establishes his own policies but often those of the entire industry of which his business is a part. Consequently our service to the public has broadened its scope as the dominance of this store in its line has been attained. Realizing that period furniture yields greater satisfaction than that of commonplace design, we have specialized in furniture of this type. Many stores have followed us into this field, but at The Hoover-Bond you can be certain of securing proper counsel in the selection of the right period for your home because, from our long experience, we are fully conversant with the suitability of all periods to the individual requirements of any home. Furthermore, our service includes the most convenient credit terms, which enable every home to own and enjoy the finest furniture without the payment of a large amount in cash. Dependability is reflected in every type of service this store provides.

In Values

IN the dependability of its values, this store occupies a unique position. Many people who are not familiar with the policy of The Hoover-Bond are greatly surprised to find such magnificent furniture at prices no higher than are ordinarily asked by many stores for furniture of commonplace design. A tremendous volume of business in high-grade furniture, purchasing in the very largest of quantities and with prices based on a very small margin of profit, this store is able to sell furniture like this at a genuine saving. When you also stop to consider that convenient credit terms are available, is it any wonder that thousands of discriminating persons in this community look to this store for dependable merchandise? Why not come in and get acquainted with the unusual furniture values available here? Make this store your store!

Joyous Music Will Mark Easter

of Resurrection of Christ, to be Fittingly Observed In Lima—Society Soon to Resume
Activities

A joyous outburst of song and music, typifying the joy of the Resurrection and dissipating the gloom and sorrows of the days of Lent, as society to take a more active attitude, now that Easter is at hand. There was a custom in olden days, especially in the eastern countries, on Easter morn, everyone who met, whether friend or enemy, greet another with "He is Risen!"

Today so little time is given for that and for devotion, that the query to ones mind as to just how many people would on this morning of wonderful event even think what it commemorates—the Easter morn, the women found the stone rolled away and Christ arisen. Their joy gladness at the real fact of His resurrection has echoed thru the ages, to the present day. However, this is often eclipsed by the more material thoughts. The donning of the new spring frock has been known to shadow the real Easter thought.

The Easter feeling has come after 40 days of quietness for most people. After 40 days which are supposed to be devoted to religious work, and partly, everyone, especially the ones in the social world are anxious to get thru the period of quietness and begin without delay to indulge in gaieties.

The first post-Lenten informal affair will be the Wayfarer's dance on Friday evening to be given at the club. Elaborate preparations are being made by the committee in charge including Gene Neely, Harry Strasburg, Al Aire, Paul Clark, Richard Judkins, and Frances Clark. This is expected to be one of the most brilliant entertainments yet featured by the club.

Wednesday evening another affair in which the young people will participate will be the Easter dance, given at the club.

A social calendar will be filled with affairs honoring several brides. Sunday Miss Mary Parmenter, sister of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Parmenter, will entertain with a tea for the pleasure of Miss Martha Anderson, whose marriage to Harold Anderson, will be an event of Wednesday of this week; Miss Marian van, the bride-elect of Conway Beaumont, Texas, and Miss Wright whose marriage to R. Curtin, Jr., will take place during this month.

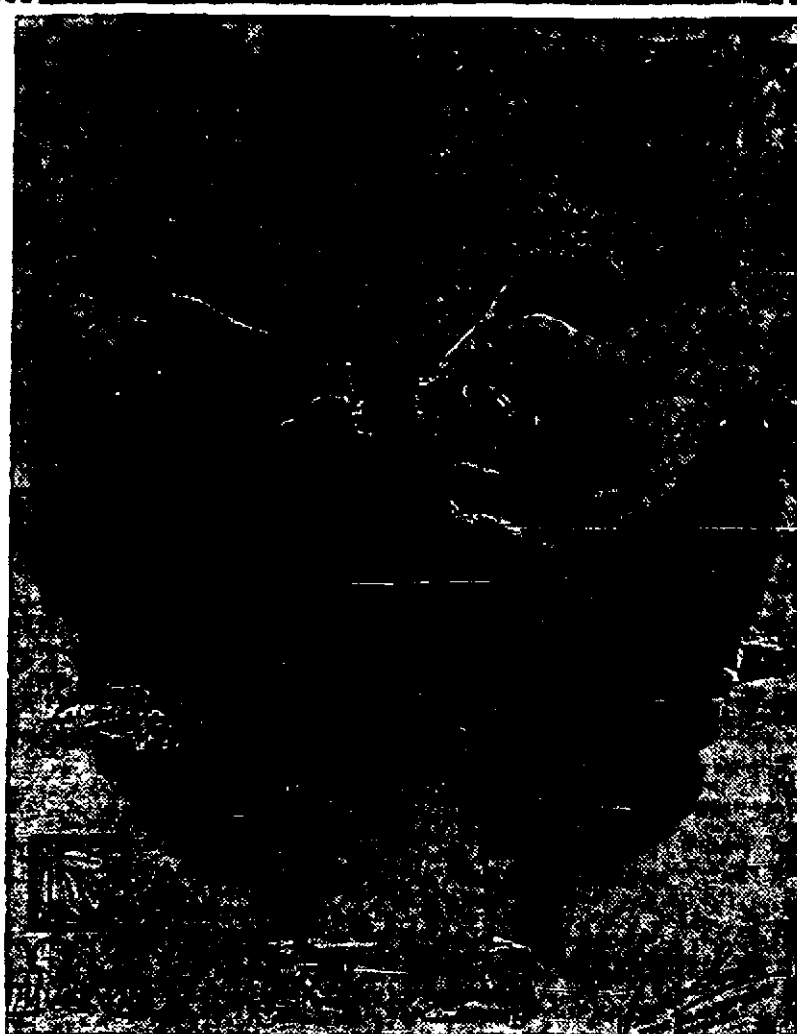

Tuesday Miss Helen Pence is entertaining with a bridge tea honoring Miss Wright and Miss Sullivan. Lightful bridge-tea for these two will be given at the Hotel Norvai with Mrs. Chester Cable as hostess. Miss Gertrude Finley is entertaining with bridge on Thursday and on Friday Mrs. Frank Wright, S. Cole-st., an aunt of Miss Hazel Wright, is entertaining with a tea for Miss Sullivan and Miss Wright.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church enjoyed a delightful meeting of Friday afternoon at the home on Mrs. John Keith, N. Jameson-ave. Thirty members were in attendance. Social chat and music afforded entertainment throughout the afternoon after which a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Donald Keith. Hyacinths and jonquils were used effectively throughout the rooms of the Keith home.

How to Make Up The Dolly Sisters

For the home, the street and social affairs. Sane, sensible suggestions by

Don't Be Lazy Girls and Expect to Be Beautiful

Girls, don't grow pudgy if you want to be beautiful. There is a vast difference between being round and being huge.

Laziness is the great drawback. Women are willing to do anything but exercise, and it's the only thing they can do to get thin.

Sometimes they start exercising and because they are so anxious to lose weight they overdo the thing.

When you are lame that's the time to keep up the exercise, and the lameness will quickly wear away. If you take hot baths and rub with witch-hazel, the stiffness will eventually disappear, but the next time you make a good resolution and start exercises you will have the same aches and pains.

If you have too big a waist line, try this exercise: Rest flat on your back with your arms extended above your head. Then slowly and very steadily raise the feet from the floor until they are perpendicular. The muscles must be kept rigid and the knees not bent. The effort of raising the feet must be made with the body muscles.

Start out doing this exercise three times night and morning. Increase the number till you are doing it ten times. It is a big help.

FUN IN EACH OF COMING PLAYS

Faurot Offers Fine List of Attractions This Week.

"LET'S GO" HERE TOMORROW

"Chin-Chin" and "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" Next.

THIS week at the Faurot brings an extraordinary list of attractions, each of a distinct type yet all based upon that popular ingredient which most people prefer in their theatrical entertainment—fun.

The first is the Fanchon and Marco Revue, the remarkable aggregation of celebrated vaudeville stars, dancing girls and California beauties which has created a real sensation in every city it has visited. And so great has been its success that on its way eastward it has played many cities two and three times within the space of a few days to tremendous business. It comes here from Dayton and Louisville, where the press has hailed it with the same enthusiastic praise that has followed it from the coast.

Next comes the wonderful musical play, "Chin-Chin," with Walter Willis and Roy Binder in the principal roles and with the only company playing the piece under the management of Charles Dillingham, who gave us the delightful Sanderson-Jarvis musical comedy earlier in the year. The last is the celebrated false economy, "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," which had all Lima in a roar last season and returns with the same expert cast and handsome stage production. It will be a great week for laughter, music, song, dance, glitter and novelty, so get your share.

Admirers of those celebrated artists, Fanchon and Marco, and lovers of dancing in general, will have much to fascinate and entertain them when the fashion-plate stars appear at the Faurot on next Monday night in the new edition of one of their Revues, "Let's Go," which played for ten capacity weeks in San Francisco, and which has since been a real sensation in the theatrical world and is now en route to New York for a summer engagement.

The daily Fanchon and the successful Marco have avoided a brand-new series of tempestuous rivalries especially for the present tour of "Let's Go" and a Fanchon and Marco "recreation" is famous wherever modern dancing is known. Marco still possesses his tuneful violin, and will display this phase of his art in the midst of his dancing specialty with his fascinating partner.

But though they are stars, Fanchon and Marco have not spared expense and care to secure the finest supporting cast available. The roster of names includes Nelson and Chain, comedians par excellence; Arthur West, the noted black-face comedian; "Bill" Dooley, uncanny player; pretty Lucilla Smith, Mary Lewis, Mildred and Mayo, Phil Harris, Marice Stryker and numerous others.

Sheer fun is the basis of Let's Go and novelty is its keynote with action running at top speed from the first curtain to the last. A particular feature, naturally, is the chorus, for which the claim is made that it is composed of "the thirty most beautiful girls in the world." These girls appear several times during the progress of the show on the runway above the audience.

At the Faurot for next Tuesday night—"The everlasting" "Chin-Chin" is announced. There is but one company presenting this, the greatest American musical comedy.

Seven gorgeous settings make up the stupendous production of Charles Dillingham's "Chin-Chin." The principal comedians are Walter Willis and Roy Binder.

The book is by Anne Caldwell and L. H. Burnside, the lyrics by Miss Caldwell and James O'Dea, the music by Ivan Caryll, so well remembered for his ingratiating melodies in "The Pink Lady" and "The Little Ape."

This riot of fun, feast of music, evy of feminine beauty with prett dresses, swift and grotesque dancing and lots of pranks amusement, including Tom Brown's Clown Band and the famous Saxophone Sextette, promises a most enjoyable entertainment, with Charles Dillingham's own company presenting this wonderful spectacle.

In this musically rich show such numbers as "Violet," "The Grey Moon," "The Love Moon," "Goodbye Girl, I'm Through," and the comedy song, "Go On, Go On," always receive spontaneous applause.

One of the conspicuous dramatic successes of last season will be seen at the Faurot next Saturday matinee and night, when A. H. Woods presents "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." This play scores more laughs than any other comedy on the boards last year. It is certainly one of the very few plays that survived the sweltering New York heat, and ran well into the summer. Its unusual plot deals with the adventures of an unscrupulous young benefactor who is compelled to play the role of a Don Juan in order to satisfy the romantic cravings of his sentimental wife. His reluctant ventures in the domain of amorous experience bring upon his head a series of unexpected trouble—most of them women—but provide the audience with a play that the New York Tribune enthusiastically declared had "more fizz than 'Twin Beds' and 'Fair and Warner'." The play will be interpreted by a notable cast of actors, every member having been personally selected by Mr. Woods.

"The Tone Amplifier" is part of the Brunswick Method of Reproduction. It solves an old problem in acoustics. H. P. MAUS PIANO HOUSE

BENEFIT PICTURE MONDAY

Other Noted Attractions Certain to lease All

WHAT is probably the largest aggregation of features ever shown in one week will be flashed on local screens this week when such prominent stars as Ethel Clayton, Jack Pickford, Constance Binney, Robert Warwick, Elaine Hammerstein, Harrison Ford, Sylvia Breamer, Norma Talmadge, Pauline Frederick and Marjorie Daw will favor fans with their newest pictures. Jack Pickford will be seen at the Regent for three days, starting today in a picturization of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," by John Fox, Jr. This book lends itself admirably to its screen version, and the portrayal of Chad by Jack Pickford is a remarkably good piece of work, showing as it does, three stages in his life. This is the picture chosen for the Library Benefit by the Kiwanis club. The other Regent attraction this week will be "The River's End," from the story by James Oliver Curwood, one of the greatest American authors of the great outdoors. An all star cast, including Marjorie Daw and Lewis Stone make up the cast.

Elaine Hammerstein, Selznick star, is the feature at the Lyric theater today and for three days in "The Woman Game." Miss Hammerstein's youthful buoyancy and interpretative skill are winning great admiration and in this picture she handles the part of Amy Terrell with perfect artistry.

J. Warren Kerrigan in "The Heart of the Irish" will be shown at the Lyric on Friday and Saturday, and Sylvia Breamer and Robert Gordon will share honors in "My Husband's Other Wife" on Wednesday and Thursday.

For one day only the Faurot will present Robert Warwick in "In Old Mizoura," with Eileen Percy, Ethel Clayton in "Young Mrs. Winthrop" on Wednesday and Thursday at the Faurot, is co-starred with Harrison Ford, formerly Constance Talmadge's leading man. Then on Friday, Constance Binney will be presented in "The Stolen Kiss," from the popular book "Little Miss By-Then-Day."

Playing a return engagement, Norma Talmadge is at the Majestic today in "The Isle of Conquest," the picture which enjoyed such popularity here a short time ago, while on Friday another great screen classic will be presented with Pauline Frederick in "One Week of Life."

At the Orpheum today the screen feature will be "The Common Cause" with Herbert Rawlinson and six acts of vaudeville.

THE FAUROT'S PICTURES

Robert Warwick in "In Mizoura." Much has been written about realism on the screen, but the whole plot of "In Mizoura," the new Paramount-Artcraft picture starring Robert Warwick, which will be shown at the Faurot today, is built around a startle incident that happened in that state several years ago. The author, Augustus Thomas, was at that time a reporter on a St. Louis paper. A train robbery took place in which a lone highwayman held up the express messenger and stole several thousands of dollars. Afterward he turned up a small town and was captured by Mr. Thomas took this affair and, with his dramatic genius, incorporated it into a play along with an unusually appealing love story. The late Nat Goodwin used it for several years as a starring vehicle.

It was inevitable that a play of such force and appeal should reach the screen. Robert Warwick is said to fit ideally into the role of the hero, and Eileen Percy is a pretty leading woman. The cast also includes Noah Berry, Monte Blue, Gertrude Short and Robert E. Helman Marie Dix, who, in the turnip "Secret Service" and "Thou Gavest Me," wrote the scenario.

In a count of important theatrical soundings the stay of "In Mizoura" is limited to today only. The feature will be accompanied by the Pathe News, a "Big V" comedy and the Paramount Magazine.

Ethel Clayton's Latest "Young Mrs. Winthrop." Bronson Howard's vivid and intimate play of young married life, which theatregoers of a generation ago remember as one of the finest and most celebrated plays of that period, has been pictured by Paramount-Artcraft and with Ethel Clayton in the leading role, will be seen at the Faurot on Wednesday and Thursday. Her supporting cast will include Harrison Ford, Helen Dunbar, Winifred Greenwood, Charles Ogle, Raynor, Marion, Mabel Van Buren, Walter Hiers and other well known players. The play has been brought up-to-date, one of the most sensational scenes being a "sporty" jazz party. Other good things on this bill are the Pathe News and Mack Bennett's new comedy, "The Speakeasy."

Constance Binney Comes to the Faurot. Constance Binney, whose success on the speaking stage this season in "The East" has been duplicated by her big hit in Resart pictures, comes to the Faurot on Friday in her latest screen triumph, "The Stolen Kiss." The picture is adapted from the popular book "Little Miss By-Then-Day," which is noted for its whimsical character and for effective work. Star support will include Rodney Le Roy, Robert E. Helman, George Backus, Robert E. Helman, Agnes Everett and others well known. Added features of the bill will include the spicy "Topics of the Day" and the Holmes Travel Pictures.

REARERS—Today is the last day of the successful run of the new film, "The Feud," which the Rialto theatre. The popularity of this production here bears out the claim that it is the best of the Tom Mix plays. Its story is very dramatic and thrilling and the action contains several spectacular incidents.

Among the many popular players in the supporting cast are Eva Green, Claire McDowell, J. Arthur Haines, John Coatsworth, Arthur McComb, John Bacon, Sid Jordan and Lucetta Scott. Charles Kenyon wrote both the original story and the screen version, while J. La Saint directed the production.

Happy Thought

Love And Married Life

BY IDA MCGLOTH GIBSON

KISSES—DIFFERENT KINDS

"And you're not coming home with me?" John continued, unhappily. "Do you know how long I have been wifeless, Katherine?"

"About four months," I answered. "but, oh, many times in the first two I would have been glad to come back had you asked me."

"You know I couldn't go that far," John said. "You left me of your own accord, against my wishes, and I could not ask you to come back."

"But you're asking me now?" "Now it is different. By some crisscross in the web of fate, you have become a rich woman and I know you are going to be the prey of both fools and fortune hunters. I think it is my duty to have a word where I can look after you."

REQUEST IS EXPLAINED
Mr. heart said: "So that was why John had asked me to go back, and because he wanted to see me for a while but because he still had a lingering idea that I would give him change of my money."

"Well, I am going to give you a dear," I said. "for a couple of months at least. Why couldn't you come down and spend a few weeks with me?" "It would do you so much good to get away from your little ones."

"Perhaps I will," he said in a modified tone. "When do you think your cousin will be back with a report on your oil properties?"

"Good heavens, John," exclaimed Alice, "is it possible that you can't think of anything but money?"

"You seem to think," said he with a grin, "that I think of many other things. However, you ought to know by this time that any good business man hates to see money go to waste in any way. A business man is willing to pay for his pleasure, he even doesn't find fault when he pays for his mistakes, but his heart crumples up when he sees someone else wasting good money that he knows should be his to invest and care for properly."

LEAVES ROOM IN SILENCE
Alice rose suddenly and left the room in silence. I knew that she was disgusted with her brother, and I too was hurt beyond words. I at last wished that I had never heard about an oil well for before. My mother's will was read I had almost determined to try John's way of living, to give up the eternal battles of the sexes and just be a vanquished wife.

"Are you sure you're not going?" asked John once more. "I was very thankful that I did not have to answer that question for you, then the doctor came in, and seeing my very white and tired face, he said: 'Katherine, what are you doing? Didn't I tell you that after two weeks will be read that you were to go to bed and allow anyone—even John—to talk to you? Here you are sitting up hours after midnight with your heart parched and aches that are a flash of light!'"

"At night," I exclaimed. "I'll be going now. I seem to get on Katherine's nerves more than any other person."

"I'm afraid you do, Mr. Gordon," said the old doctor gravely. "Then, I won't bother you any more," he said as he came over, and coldly touched his lip to mine.

VARIOUS KINDS OF KISSES
I wonder if anyone ever dreamed the different flavors of a kiss. There is the kiss of a coquette as light as a feather, down but wholly within a kind of sweetness that makes one wish to come back again. There is the kiss of rain-drenched eyes while the mouths never meet. The kiss of the mother upon the cheek, the place of her baby's little body—the kiss that makes it well. There is the kiss we place upon the cold forehead of death and from which comes the little shudder of premonition which tells us that some day someone's lips will be pressing our stiffening lips. There is the first kiss of one's lover—the kiss which makes all the earth a heaven; and the duty kiss of the husband which makes the wife feel as if that heaven were breaking up into little pieces—pieces that we would never be able to put together again. And that is the kiss that I have just received from my husband. Tomorrow—An Anonymous Letter.

~~Battery Repairs and Re-insulation~~

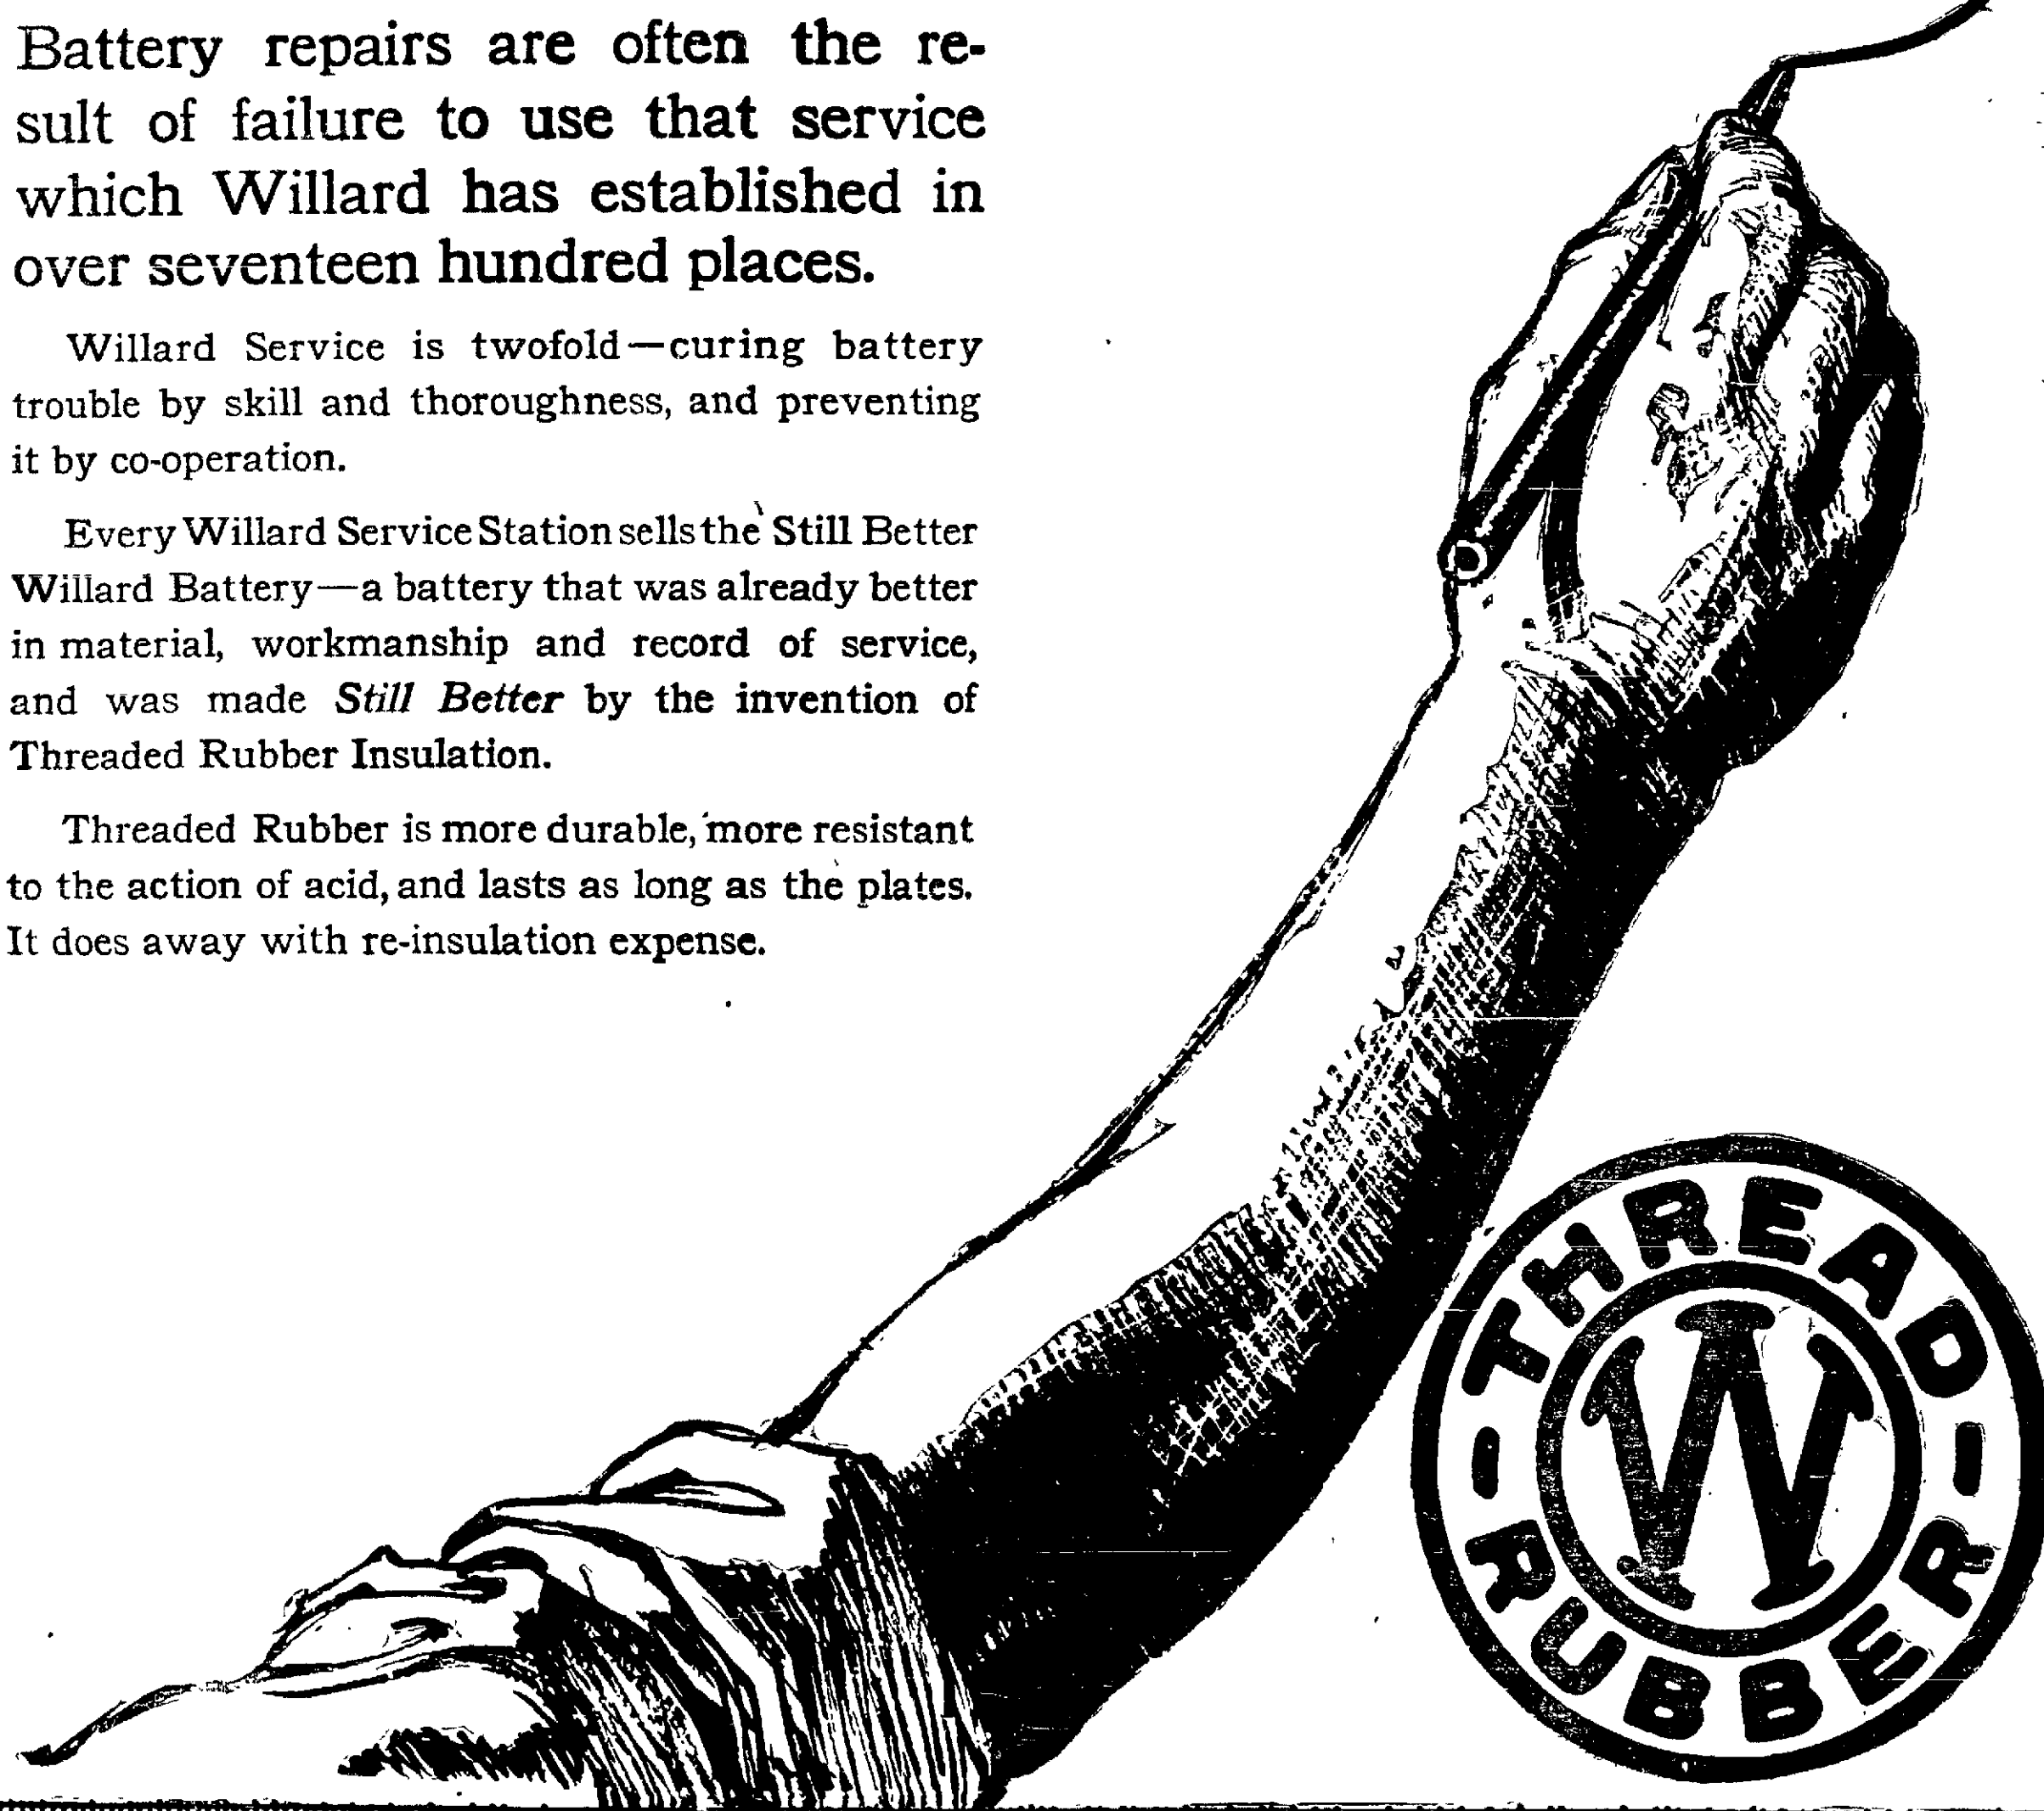

Better Service - Better Batteries

Battery repairs are often the result of failure to use that service which Willard has established in over seventeen hundred places.

Willard Service is twofold—curing battery trouble by skill and thoroughness, and preventing it by co-operation.

Every Willard Service Station sells the Still Better Willard Battery—a battery that was already better in material, workmanship and record of service, and was made Still Better by the invention of Threaded Rubber Insulation.

Threaded Rubber is more durable, more resistant to the action of acid, and lasts as long as the plates. It does away with re-insulation expense.
